Equality impact assessment

This is our equality impact assessment form to help you equality check what you are doing when you are about to produce a new policy, review an older one, write a strategy or plan or review your services and functions. In fact you need to do an equality impact assessment whenever a decision is needed that affects people. This completed form should be attached to any Cabinet or Personnel Committee report to help elected members make their decisions by taking the equality implications into account. Equality impact assessments must be done before decisions are made. Include the Cabinet or Personnel Committee's decision on the front sheet when you know it.

You'll find that doing these assessments will help you to:

- understand your customers' and communities needs
- develop service improvements
- improve service satisfaction
- demonstrate that you have been fair and open and considered equality when working on re-structuring.

Don't do the form by yourself, get a small team together and make sure you include key people in the team such as representatives from our Diversity Forums and employee networks and you could invite trade union representatives too – the more knowledge around the table the better. Ask our Lead on Equality and Diversity for help with useful contacts – we have a team of people who are used to doing these assessments.

You'll need to pull together all the information you can about how what you are assessing affects different groups of people and then examine this information to check whether some people will be negatively or positively affected. Then you'll need to look at ways of lessening any negative effects or making the service more accessible – this is where your assessment team is very useful and you can also use the wider community.

Agree an equality action plan with your assessment team, setting targets for dealing with any negative effects or gaps in information you may have found. Set up a way of monitoring these actions to make sure they are done and include them in your service business plans.

When you have completed the assessment, get it signed by your Head of Service or Service Director and send it to our Lead on Equality and Diversity to publish on our website.

By the way, we need to do these assessments as part of our everyday business, so we get our equality responsibilities right and stay within the law – Equality Act 2010.

Equality groups

These are the equality groups of people we need to think about when we are doing equality impact assessments and these people can be our customers or our employees...

- Age equality – the effects on young and older people
- Disability equality – the effects on the whole range of disabled people, including Deaf people, hearing impaired people, visually impaired people, people with mental health issues, people with learning difficulties and people with physical impairments
- Gender equality – the effects on both men and women and boys and girls
- Marriage and civil partnership equality
- Pregnancy and maternity equality - women who are pregnant or who have recently had a baby, including breast feeding mothers
- Race equality – the effects on minority ethnic communities, including newer communities, gypsies and travellers and the Roma community
- Religion and belief or non- belief equality – the effects on religious and cultural communities, customers and employees

- Sexuality equality – the effects on lesbians, gay men and bisexual people
- Trans gender – the effects on trans people

In addition, we have decided to look at the effects on people on low incomes too as we feel this is very important.

The form

We use the term ‘policy’ as shorthand on this form for the full range of policies, practices, plans, reviews, activities and procedures.

Policies will usually fall into three main categories...

- Organisational policies and functions, such as recruitment, complaints procedures, re-structures
- Key decisions such as allocating funding to voluntary organisations, budget setting
- Policies that set criteria or guidelines for others to use, such as criteria about school admissions

1 What's the name of the policy you are assessing?

To stop the collection of comingled food and garden waste (in brown bins) in October 2013 to be replaced by an “opt in” chargeable garden waste collection service in March/April 2014.

Important - For any of the equality groups you don't have any information about, then make it an equality action at the end of this assessment to find out. This doesn't mean that you can't complete the assessment without the information, but you need to follow up the action and if necessary, review the assessment later.

8 From the information you have collected, how are you going to lesson any negative impact on any of the equality groups? How are you going to fill any gaps in information you have discovered?

- Waste Management will work with Neighbourhood Teams and the Diversity Forums if we become aware of any negative impacts on the proposal in any particular area of the City.
- Residents can compost their garden waste at home, and Waste Management will offer support and give advice on home composting.
- Residents can take garden waste to the Civic Amenity Site at Raynesway.
- A website giving advice on home composting is available on the Derby City Council website
- Waste Management will offer home composting containers to residents at a discounted rate. (This will need a budget to cover the subsidy)
- The information about composting and the new system is available in picture form so it is easy for people to understand, particularly if English is not the first language. It is also available in different formats on request.

9 What outcome does this assessment suggest you take? – you might find more than one applies. Please also tell us why you have come to this decision?

| | | |
|------------------|--|---|
| Outcome 1 | | No major change needed – the EIA hasn't identified any potential for discrimination or negative impact and all opportunities to promote equality have been taken |
| Outcome 2 | | Adjust the policy to remove barriers identified by the |

|------------------|------------|--|
| | | EIA or better promote equality. Are you satisfied that the proposed adjustments will remove the barriers you identified? |
| Outcome 3 | YES | Continue the policy despite potential for negative impact or missed opportunities to promote equality identified. You will need to make sure the EIA clearly sets out the justifications for continuing with it. You need to consider whether there are sufficient plans to reduce the negative impact and plans to monitor the actual impact |
| Outcome 4 | | Stop and rethink the policy when the EIA shows actual or potential unlawful discrimination |

Our Assessment team has agreed Outcome number(s) 3

- Introduce the policy by end of October 2013 and monitor feedback from Neighbourhood Teams, Diversity Forums and the public generally and Waste Management will respond positively to the issues raised.

Why did you come to this decision?

- This will provide the Council with an opportunity to allocate resources to collect unwanted 140 litre blue bins and any brown bins unwanted by householders, reduce budgets and continue with a garden waste collection service to those residents who wish to join the scheme in March/April 2014.

If you have decided on Outcome 3, then please tell us here the justification for continuing with the policy. You also need to make sure that there are actions in the Equality action plan to lesson the effect of the negative impact. This is really important and may face a legal challenge in the future.

9 How do you plan to monitor the equality impact of the proposals, once they have been implemented?

- Waste Management will liaise with Neighbourhood Teams and Diversity Forums and respond to individual concerns raised.
- Waste Management will attend each of the Diversity Forum meetings in six months to assess the new system
- Waste Management will monitor the level of complaints.
