Creating a Better Future

Can you give half a day a year?

If you can offer a minimum of half a day a year of your time, you will help e4e improve the opportunities and skills of our young people and better prepare them for the world of work.

This will enable us to raise ambition and aspiration for all and equip our young people with the skills they need to learn, earn and thrive in today's workplace.

Linking Employers to Schools and Students

Join us to inspire young people and help prepare them for the world of work

Enterprise for Education (E4E) is a Derby partnership, which links employers with schools and students in a bid to:

- Raise young people's aspirations
- Improve employability skills amongst the city's young people
- Provide a larger pool of home-grown talent for local employers
- Create a better understanding of career opportunities

Our project board is made up of SMEs, representatives from Derby City Council, the city's schools and local business community, including major employers such as Rolls-Royce.

Our vision is to build a passionate movement that mobilises the local workforce to support pupils and schools in order to help our young people prepare for the world of work.

Programme

The E4E programme has proved hugely successful, with local schools and the pupils identifying the need for a wider range of support.

Our activities now include:

- Mentoring
- CV Workshops
- Careers Talks
- Mock Interviews
- Industry Visits – Local employers open their business doors to a short visit from a group of local pupils.
- Parent Engagement – Volunteers engage with parents to raise awareness about work opportunities.
- Expert Exchange - Local industry reps inform and inspire school staff about their area of work
- Enterprise Advisor – strategic partner to school

Here's some reasons why our current employers support E4E:

- To develop the future workforce
- Participating employees value taking part
- Soft skills and hard skills development of staff
- Staff feel more inspired engaged and energised
